Incedo™ Business

Moving People. Together.

The way we move keeps changing — as does the way we use today's smarter buildings. Access control makes this movement of people possible, so your security system must move with it.

Incedo Business is the single, all-encompassing platform you need to deliver connectivity, convenience and simplicity, offering you the access control you demand and the flexibility you need. It combines ASSA ABLOY's vast range of access hardware and security solutions with flexible software and scalable management options. Incedo Business user interfaces are adaptable and easily updated to meet the changing needs of your business.

Incedo delivers the integration and connectivity your business demands, providing secure access points and advanced identification technology. It makes life easier and work more efficient for everyone, from installers to end users.

Incedo Business works for any building, small or big, leaving you free to focus on growing your business.

Incedo Business: the access control system, you can manage in the Cloud, scalable, simple to use

People need different access times and entry points, and your security requirements change day to day – so a static solution is no longer an option. Instead, a single, all-encompassing security platform should deliver connectivity, convenience and simplicity, keeping your premises secure and filtering access to manage the ever-changing movement of people. Incedo Business Cloud offers you an easy-to-use cloud based access control system.

- No need for a dedicated PC

- Control all your security requirements directly in the cloud—from anywhere, at any time

- Administer the system remotely

- Scale up your system with additional doors and sites at any stage

- Be confident with your buildings' security by running reports at any time

- Easy to upgrade from the Incedo Lite embedded system

Incedo Business offers a range of three user-friendly management options; Cloud is the most powerful

Our Cloud management system reduces the startup costs of switching to electronic access control. You can now operate a robust access control system without a specialist IT department or even a local dedicated PC to administer the system.

You do not need servers or other expensive dedicated network hardware. With Incedo Business Cloud all your access control data is hosted off-site in a secure environment with ISO 27001 accreditation.*

Introducing the Incedo Business Cloud management system

The access control your demand, with the flexibility you need.

Incedo is a completely flexible, modular platform. Simply select the most appropriate devices for your access points, from a growing range of Incedo-enabled hardware. Add the Cloud management system. Then manage all your premises seamlessly with 24/7 control.

Incedo Business Cloud management allows you to run your security from anywhere in the world

Improve security with a system that is scalable and flexible.

Does your access control system have high hidden costs, need a dedicated PC to work, or require someone in the office to manage it?

Everyone will enjoy the powerful functionality and robust security that Cloud management provides. On-the-move control and fast installation, all through a secure, unified, cloud-based portal, help solve the security challenges today's businesses face. Investing in this future-proofed security system means that, from day one, you'll have out-of-the-box, easy to install access control. Real-time reporting capabilities enable monitoring, adding/removing personnel and making any necessary adjustments to your security, all controllable from a smart device, anywhere in the world.

With Incedo Business Cloud, we've solved the daily problems and inconveniences of PC-based access control systems:

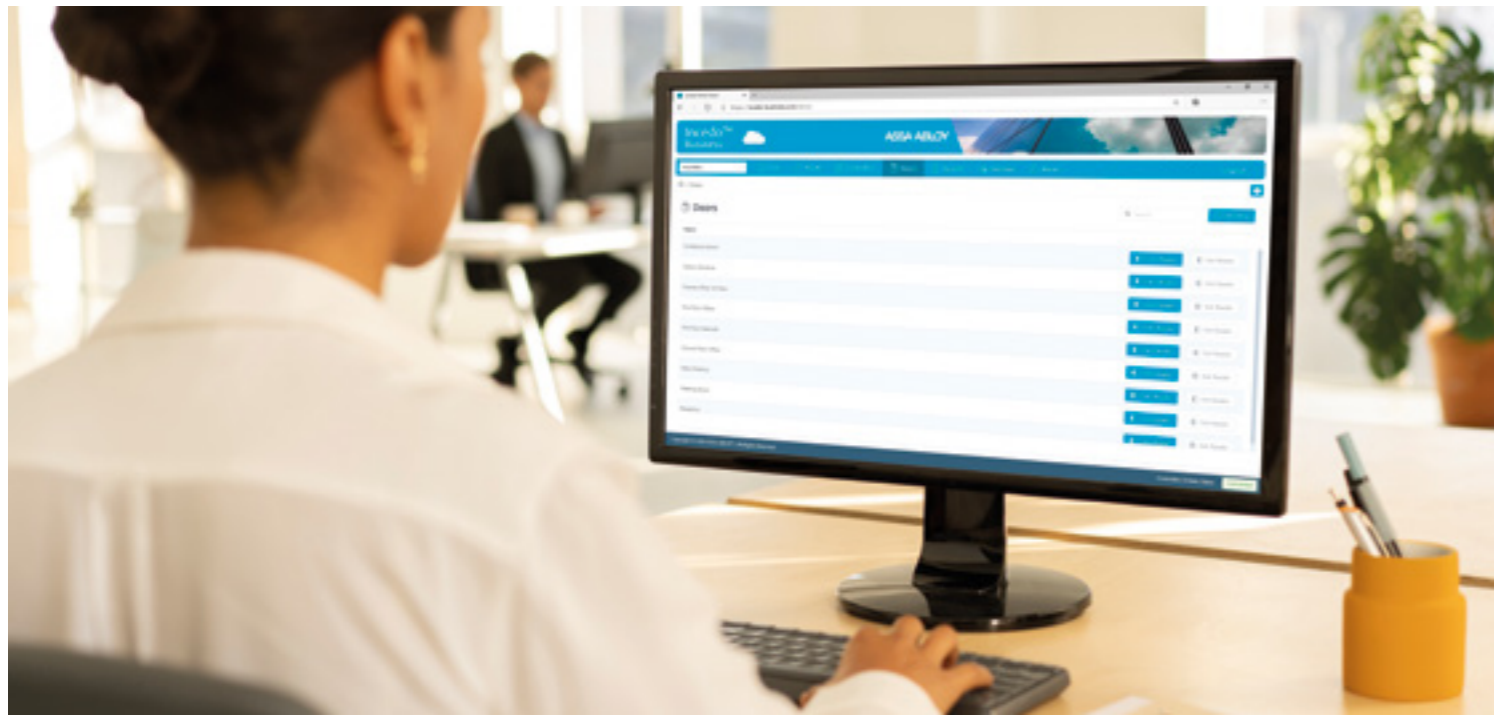

- ✘ No need to be on site to manage access
- ✘ No more difficult or complex integrations with existing security software
- ✘ No more high upfront costs (PCs, servers)
- ✘ No need to wait for on-site specialists to solve any issues

For facility managers and business owners looking for an access control system, our Cloud based solution offers:

- ✔ 24/7 remote access from any PC or tablet* with an internet connection
- ✔ Increased scalability and flexibility
- ✔ Installation is easy and user-friendly
- ✔ Able looks out of place with above and below
- ✔ Software updates automatically installed
- ✔ Issue real-time reports
- ✔ Cost-efficient, subscription-based access control
