Limitations of Use

Not for exposed external use. Not for use in fire surrounding applications. Not to be used in areas directly exposed to water.

Handling & Application/ Supalam is a very cost effective carcass ply. A higher grade panel should be used in a door or "full visual" situation, especially if exposed edge grain is required. It is important to note the this product is a "panel" laminate, and therefore not guaranteed in high wear bench-top situations. Plywood is a natural product that can be affected by changes in weather conditions: moisture and temperature. Increased moisture content or temperature variation may cause internal stresses causing previously flat sheets to bow.

At Plymasters, precautions are taken to minimize this effect. However, once the plywood has left our warehouse we cannot guarantee sheets to remain flat unless fastened. This is particularly important where free standing kitchen/cabinet doors are concerned. When storing panels, stack on a firm raised base with enough support to prevent sagging. Cover the pallet to protect the top and edges.
