

800 Series

Door furniture

The Legge commercial range of door furniture has been designed for use on commercial applications, including interior and exterior doors for retail, educational, institutional, governmental, medical and public buildings. The 800 Series has been designed for heavy commercial use in applications such as hospitals and educational facilities.

Features

- Constructed of commercial grade quality components, with forged brass levers and plates
- Heavy duty spring provides a smooth, positive return action of the lever and eliminates droop extending the life of the furniture
- Suitable for use on fire door assemblies when used with fire rated locks and latches
